Our Thursday Club was so popular we have added a second Club day

Young Author's Club

Is your child the next J. K. Rowling, Stephen King or Mark Twain?

Mondays

in Mr. Chris' classroom

OR

Thursdays

in Miss Wendy's classroom

My Young Author's Club is for children grades 3-6 with an imagination.

Under my guidance, your child will learn the basic elements of crafting a story, developing a plot, creating characters – and putting them into a published book anthology to be shared with the entire reading world.

- I have published 20 titles in 12 different languages, read all over the world
- 2,600 blog subscribers and more than 11,000 Twitter followers
- Mentor to many first-time authors; one debut novel sold more than 20,000 copies in its first year
- Featured presenter, Florida Writer's Association conference 2017 and 2018
- My works include all genres and I have been a critique partner to authors of all skill levels, including a New York Times bestselling author.

In our Author's Club, your child's ideas can come to life in a published book.
